It is the city’s newest and most versatile large-scale venue, built on the waters’ edge with panoramic views of the waters of Riddarfjärden and the City Hall (where the annual Nobel Prize gala is held).

The spectacular architecture -designed by White, Scandinavia’s leading architect company- also features world-class energy solutions, which make the Stockholm Waterfront Congress Centre more than twice as energy efficient EU certified “Green Building”.

Stockholm Waterfront Congress Centre has 14,000 m2 of flexible sectioning solutions allowing a vast number of floor plan and scene combinations. It holds up to 3,000 delegates in fixed auditorium seating and up to 2,000 delegates in banquet seating. Various types of events such as conferences, exhibitions, banquets, sports and music events can be held here.
Please note that the Floor Plan is work in progress. Kindly contact jette@ics.dk for an updated version.
The Capital of Sweden
This northern city is one of the most stunning capitals in the world. It is situated on 4 islands and is surrounded by water so clean that you can swim and fish right in the heart of the city. Stockholm is also the gateway to the archipelago, a world of 24,000 islands, rocks and skerries, and Lake Mälaren with its castles, picturesque small towns and beautiful countryside. The geographical city centre is situated on the water, in Riddarfjärden bay. Over 30% of the city area is made up of waterways and offers numerous parks and green spaces. In Stockholm you can experience famous sights as the Royal Palace, the Parliament Buildings, the Cathedral and the enchanting Gamla Stan (Old Town). Stockholm is a modern, technologically advanced, and ethnically diverse city, and one of the cleanest capitals in the world. The city was granted the 2010 European Green Capital Award by the EU Commission.

A City of Art
Stockholm is one of the most well attended museum-cities in the world with around 100 museums, visited by millions of people every year. The most renowned museum is the National Museum, with Sweden’s largest collection of art; 16,000 paintings and 30,000 objects of handicrafts. The collection dates back to the days of Gustav Vasa in the 16th century, and has since been expanded with works by artists such as Rembrandt, and Antoine Watteau, as well as constituting a main part of Sweden’s art heritage, manifested in the works of known Swedish artists. The Museum of Modern Art (Moderna Museet), is Sweden’s national museum of modern art. It has works by famous modern artists such as Picasso and Salvador Dali.

Shopping:
Östermalm is the most exclusive district in Stockholm. The area is home to exclusive international labels, side by side with high-class Scandinavian design in fashion and decor. You will find first-class fashion on Östermalm, along Biblioteksgatan. There’s no shortage of goods in the neighborhood around Stureplan – timeless classic design, as well as the latest in international fashion. Many of the most highly regarded antique dealers in Sweden are located in the neighborhood around Kommendörsgatan, and the Bukowski’s auction house buildings are on the south shore of Nybroviken. The blocks south of Folkungagatan are packed with interesting, cool and creative shops specializing in clothing, design, vintage and second-hand, houseware, books and magazines. There are also scores of restaurants, cafés and galleries, for example at Nytorget Square. The atmosphere is laid-back, yet highly aware.
