TYNET 50+

Draft agenda Workshop April 3-4, 2014

Venue: University of Bologna, Department of Education, via Filippo Re, 6, 40126 Bologna

Workshop 4: Completion of Generations online guide – partners will be divided into working groups in order to work on each chapter. Final presentation of other training, mentoring and ICT tools.

To achieve this goal we will

- share the last experiences and best practices on training women 50+ in the use of new technologies;
- define the handbook index, the topic for each chapter and the method for collecting all the project's findings.
- work in groups (one for each chapter) in order to report and collect all the all the experiences, research findings, case studies, etc.

Participants will be asked to prepare before the meeting:

- a collection of contributions to the handbook (activities from the previous workshops, case studies, references, research findings, educational methodologies and tools, best practices, etc)

Generations online: a guide for young and 50+ women about good practices in the use of new technologies. The guide will include mentoring competencies, case studies and top tips from target groups.
