

Countryreport from Norway 2020

We in the Standard- and certifying committee (RVUD), are going to work together with Denmark for translation and implementation of the new international standard for 2020. This is related to small resources and we have very similar language. Maybe this process can be fruitful and lead to further cooperation between the 2 countries.

One big highlight is that the Norwegian biodynamic association still exists!

There is still a great challenge to maintain economy for the life of our biodynamic association. But in the beginning of this year, there is formed a resourcegroup of 15 people that work for the existence of the biodynamic movement in Norway. They work towards the government/department of agriculture, lobbying for our magazin Herba, networking and other subjects. So far there has been 3 meetings. These persons brings different values into this process.

Best regards to all , Lene Stangnes (RVUD-regelverksutvalget for demeter)
