Blog about banya from Russia
Nudeblog. ru
My name is Anna!
I am 26 years old and I am the author of nudeblog.ru
Blog was created in October 2016.
I am writing about public banyas in Russia, terms, hot springs all over the world. Give advices, explain rules and show the rituals in banya nowadays.
In september 2017 I made first event in banya.
#bathbliss
This project for people who never been in banya, afraid a little and totally don’t know what to do inside! This is project for girls, but sometimes we go to banya together with men! More then 100 people in Saint Petersburg started viziting banya every week and understand this awesome tradition!
The blog was born with this photo from Kultturisauna in Helsinki! More then half a year I was searching the shape of future banya blog and the name!
I am interior design journalist and CEO in my shum.agency. We work for architects, brands, dealers, builders. Advertising, marketing, SMM, websites, shootings, events. For many years I was editor in chief of online magazine about design, making fashion shows, do sports and yoga and was banya addicted from earlier ages!

So nudeblog is a synergy of my profession, hobby and very different experience!
The main problem nowadays that public banya in Russia only for old people. Youngers don’t have this culture, they afraid of going to banya, afraid to steep themselves, they don’t want to look on old body and don’t interest in Russian real traditions! They had an idea that banya is for poor people, that it is dirty place and foreign ideas is better!
Banya history

Ancient times
Tsar time
Soviet Union

Now
What has happened with us?

On my point of view, USSR broke healthy feeling of ourselves, change attitude to the body and give the wrong route to young people. Everything was stricted, parents doesn’t give normal sexual education, doesn’t show how to love and understand yourself, made from the learning our body as a forbidden action and all sexual characteristics become something very ugly and not normal!
I was going to banya from 3 years old with my mom and granny, then was puberty period without our common bathing and after 2 years banya return to my life! From my followers I know that the first banya experience was so awful that they can't imagine how to return to this place. Our parents live in closed country with great system but without evolution as a person. No one know about energy, Zigmund Freid, level of mental development of the child, importance of showing love through mom and dad, explain how your body grow up and help with this changes in your appearance. They was cool but don't know themselves at all. The same clothes and interiors, utopia ideas for the future, always less opportunities and total absence in understanding that there is something more then LENIN!
